EDITORIAL FLINGS

There should be some way of getting the grip of the law on the man who tunes up his automobile at five o'clock in the morning.

When you're out walking with your best girl and pass and speak to your favorite bootlegger, and she naturally inquires who he is, just tell her he is a life saver you know.

There was a young man of Lamasco who caught without wearing a mask, oh

Till a batter named Pipp,
Hit a dirty foul tip,
And his eye felt hot as tobacco.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon says: "I don't like soft seats in automobiles. I like the bumps at 87, for they remind me of life." Take it from one who knows, life never was and never will be sitting upon cushions without having to sew a fine seam.

The latest things in stockings, not counting feet, of course, is pink silk with overtrain of flowered lace. The effect is to make a muddy crossing look like a bed of pansies and so blossom and bloom as the rose. It isn't hard to get a chance to inspect 'em though!

It has been asserted by investors that manual labor will continue to be well paid, because there are so few human beings who want to do manual labor. Now, here is a chance for an outdoor life for desk-emaciated men who need exercise, and at the same time need the money.

A Paris parent who had become extremely solicitous over the welfare of his son, who was industrious in nothing but the sowing of wild oats, consulted an old friend, "What must I do?" he asked. "Well, is it a case of booze?" asked the friend. "No, sir," quickly replied the fond parent. "Well, then," thundered the friend, "who is the woman in the case, and where did he first meet her?" That seemed to be the kernel in the nutshell.

Dr. Faince, of Brown University, says the ideal education is not that of a man who knows something about everything, but that of the man who knows everything about something. Quite right. For example, if one man could speak seventeen languages, and recite backwards the history of seventeen countries he might die poor, but if another man knew how to make seventeen hairs grow where one is getting lonely upon the top of a man's head his future might be made. Bald-headed men of Paris, give this your attention.

She was an awfully nice Paris girl, with high ideals and all that sort of thing. The other day she was walking rapidly down High street, and her stocking became unfastened, and the wind was blowing rather briskly. There was nothing for our heroine to do under the circumstances but to stop and adjust that stocking, so that's just what she decided to do. Just as she was in the middle of the act, bend-angle, a sudden gust of wind came swishing around the corner, and blew her—hat off her head, exposing one ear completely. And she was never so embarrassed in all her life.

Several Paris barbers have told us that men are growing more fastidious than women. Many males, the barbers say, have become addicted to scented soap, and are even demanding that their eyebrows be plucked. When they begin to ask for marcel waves we will believe there is some foundation for the rumor.

Physicians have discovered a new malady. It is the automobile foot disease, and, according to the medics, is produced by a combination of the tight shoe and a too-frequent "stepping on the gas." Another automobile foot disease is the artificial St. Vitus' dance produced by trying to dodge four reckless drivers coming from four different corners at one and the same time.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the day on which Christopher Columbus discovered America. An orator was recently heard to remark that so sanguine and ingrained an optimist was Columbus that if there hadn't been an America at the end of his journey, it would have been necessary to create one. We would not wish to be dogmatic about it, but we do know that in many ways his people are recreating a country which needed their touch of color, of art, to say nothing of their sobriety, to complete the national melting-pot process.

THREE STERLING ATTRACTIONS AT GRAND AND ALAMO

Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Read come to the local theatres to-night (Tuesday) in a presentation of "Forever," a powerful drama produced from the famous novel "Peter Ibbeston." It is a Paramount production, and has taken a place among the big pictures of the season. It is said to be one of the finest photoplays the Famous Player Lasky Corporation has produced to date.

Coming to-morrow (Wednesday) Goldwin pictures present Helen Chadwick in her newest picture, "The Dust Flower." The story deals with a little tenement girl, whom a man of power and great wealth, married in his hour of desperation. After the wedding, the society beauty begged him to come back, and he found himself torn between his duty to his wife, and his fiancée. The great moment comes, when the lover is forced to choose between them.

After scoring a big hit in New York, the great race-track picture, "Thunderclap," will come to the Alamo theatre, both matinee and night next Thursday. The local management made special arrangements with Wm. Fox, the producer of the remarkable photodrama, for its showing in this city. There are many thrills, heart-throbs and laughs throughout the picture and there is reason to believe that the photoplay will cause a sensation when it reaches here.

FIRE DESTROYS TOBACCO BARN NEAR LEXINGTON

Fire, thought to have been started by spontaneous combustion, Saturday afternoon, destroyed a large barn on the farm of L. D. Scott, on the Maysville pike, near Lexington, causing a loss close to $10,000.

The product of 15 acres of tobacco, 150 tons of hay, and farming implements were destroyed in the blaze. The farm is owned by J. E. Gorham, of Lexington. Mr. Gorham said that the barn was practically new and when built cost $4,000. The building was covered by $3,500 insurance, he said.

PARIS WOMAN ON STATE GOLF COMMITTEE

Mrs. Joseph W. Morford, of Lexington, was elected vice-president of the Woman's State Golf Association when organization was effected by a group of women assembled at Louisville at the Seelbach Hotel. Mrs. Harvey Meyers, of Fort Mitchell, was chosen president; Mrs. E. D. Mason, of the Audubon Country Club, secretary; and Mrs. Harry Buckley, of the Louisville Country Club, treasurer.

The executive committee is composed of Mesdames G. Walker Hopkins, Cherokee County Club, Louisville; Miss Loraine Butler, Paris; Mrs. Samuel Marks, Lexington, and Mrs. Walter Lapp, Standard Club, Louisville.

Plans will be made later in the year for the 1923 State tournament.

FREDERICK WALLIS WILL ADDRESS FT. THOMAS CLUB.

Mr. Frederick A. Wallis, of New York, formerly of Paris, former immigration commissioner at Ellis Island and deputy police commissioner and of the advisory committee of the federated churches of America and president of the Kentucky Society of New York, will lecture before the Ft. Thomas Woman's Club. Mr. Wallis is a native Kentuckian, having lived in Paris, before going to New York to reside.

D'YE MIND THE TIME

When These Things Happened In Paris, As Told In THE NEWS' Files?

DAYS OF AULD LANG SYNE

There's no denying that to most of us there is a certain satisfaction in reviewing the events of long ago, as they are presented to us, either casually or by force of some reminiscent strain of the moment. And to those who lived here in the long ago the recalling of events in the old days of Paris affords a peculiar satisfaction all its own. They, perhaps, more than we who have grown used to the old place, will appreciate these items, taken at random from a copy of THE BOURBON NEWS of Friday, April 7, 1882:

Jos. Newhall & Son have opened a machine shop near Ed. McKinley's.

"Let's take a little whisky out of bond," is the way a man is now invited to drink in Lexington.

John W. Jones, of this city, will deliver a temperance lecture in Mt. Sterling on Sunday afternoon.

"Boss" Pullen has gone to Frankfort to settle with Auditor Hewitt the balance of the State taxes.

The last words of Wm. Hite, Sr., were, "It's all right." How much better were these words than those of the great Napoleon, "To the head of the army?"

Mrs. J. W. Holliday announces that she is located next door to Philip Nippert's, and that she has a full line of beautiful flowers now ready for market.

Walker Muir captured and brought to town a pair of Siamese snakes. They have two separate heads, but their bodies are joined by a ligament as were the Siamese twins.

Persons desiring to keep the run of the 500 "visiting" young ladies of Bourbon will do well to not subscribe for the BOURBON NEWS, for our columns are not open for that class of silliness.

Over one thousand of our citizens monkeyed to the grand stand and had their savage breasts soothed with the Aeolian strains of the Wizard Oil song, fiddle and banjo band, several nights this week.

Will Isgrigg, a fisherman of the pure cold water-faith caught 16 newlights which weighed 16 pounds, while a lot of boys of the Barnes faith fished all around him and couldn't get a nibble, on Tuesday last.

The Rev. Ernest McMillan, of the Presbyterian Church Assembly, will hold services every night this week. Rev. J. Alderson, from Maysville, will assist. All are invited to attend.

F. L. McChesney telegraphs home that he has been appointed one of the three Railroad Commissioners of the State, at a salary of $2,000 per annum.

Nippert has commenced to cool off the diabolical constitutions of the sinners as well as Christians, at two cents per pound, with pure crystal lake ice.

Mrs. L. Ashurst, of Hutchison Station, has pulled the first flock of ripe spring chickens in the county, and made a kingly spread before some guests Wednesday. She has 150 little chirpers now ranging from a "pip" to the frying pan.

Bedford & Hedges have moved their entire stock of goods from Millersburg, to this place, and though not selling "at cost," are doing a pushing, thriving business.

Dick Talbott, our baggage smash-er, who is one of the Barnes converts, didn't get mad at a negro whom he caught stealing something about his office the other day, but just got a piece of plank and gave him a stirring up in the name of the Lord, and justice was satisfied, when he didn't feel revenged in the least.

THE NEWS is published every Tuesday and Friday, between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m., rain or shine, sleet or snow, and will continue to say what it chooses until removed by death, fire or flood. The family of THE NEWS resides in the old Porter residence near the freight depot, and the $1,200 per annum that is spent to feed and clothe that family shall be spent among those that patronize THE NEWS. (A half dozen blind men in this city would do well to remember this, too.) THE NEWS office is situated on Bank row, opposite the court house, and its glaring sign can be seen from any place on Main street.

A Frankfort dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer says Charlie Brent, of Paris, has recovered $2,500 of the $20,000 stolen from the Citizen's Bank, which were stolen by the burglars, Cooney and Dunbar, and it is also rumored in Paris that Hazen is negotiating with some thieves for the return of the Carlisle bonds on the basis of no prosecution, and certain thieves are said to have gone to St. Louis to get the balance of the missing bonds.

From THE BOURBON NEWS of Friday, September 7, 1881:

Frank Webb has accepted a clerkship with O. A. Gilman, coal and commission merchants.

Trains will run every fifteen minutes from the city to the fair grounds. Fare 15 cents round trip.

The groceries belonging to T. O. Bashford were sold at Sheriff's sale

Saturday for the benefit of his creditors.

James M. Allen, of the P. F. & G. R. R. surveying party, returned home last Saturday to attend school at the Edgar Institute.

J. Aug. Buckler, recently of this place, has been elected city attorney of El Paso, Texas, at the salary of $75 per month and ten per cent. of all fines.

W. A. Hill has in use at his marble works in this city, a large size book on architecture, which was printed in 1580, it now being 301 years old.

Dan Daley, who lost his leg at Maysville, while in the employ of the Kentucky Central Railroad, has been given the position as flagman and is stationed at the Winchester pike crossing in this city.

BORN—To the wife of the County Attorney, Ben G. Paton, a daughter—Lillie Hargis. To the wife of Dave Patton, near Ruddles Mills, a son. To the wife of W. H. Clay, of this county, a son.

With the temperature at 100 degrees in the shade, coal advanced four cents a bushel at Cincinnati and is now quoted at seventeen cents. This is owing to the low condition of the river.

Senator John S. Williams shipped 99 hogsheads of tobacco on one train over the K. C. route last week, and will sell the same at public sale, at the Globe Warehouse, Cincinnati, to-day.

Green Keller, of the Bourbon Sun, paid us a fraternal call on Saturday last. Green positively refused to be interviewed regarding the President's condition, and the drouth, but as regarding the clerkship, said "I am sure to be elected."

As you go sauntering around through the floral hall of the fair grounds this week, stop just a moment and gaze upon the photos of the two youthful typos of THE BOURBON NEWS office, among the Bourbon printers, taken by Horn, the model artist.

Tom Bashford's saloon and suite of rooms at Capt. Henry's old stand, are the most elegantly fitted rooms in Paris. He sets an elegant dinner for 35 cents, and his waiters are ever attentive to business. Tom's deserving enterprise was well patronized court day.

Sam Bagge, of Hutchison Station, has about cleared the upper end of the county of all its marketable sheep and cattle, and sold the same in the Covington market.

Thieves ran four of Dave Judy's largest fat hogs to death, in trying to drive them from his farm, on Thursday last. Three died in the lot, and one in the road, a short distance from the lot.

SENATOR STANLEY RAPS "INEFFICIENT RULE"

That the crying need of the hour is more business in politics and less politics in business, with a truce on the "endless multiplication of commissioners," was the declaration of Senator A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, in an address before the Columbus Day celebration of the Knights of Columbus, in Newport.

Pleading for a Government that "can find one thing it cannot do, one socialistic heresy it will not accept, one governmental nostrum it will not inflict upon a long-suffering people," Senator Stanley declared that it was amazing that seasoned and experienced statesmen should at this late hour repudiate the principles of a century of freedom and attempt to force upon the people an ancient and inquisitorial regime that has been condemned by the universal experience of mankind.

"It is incomprehensible that men who would never attempt to repair the simplest mechanism without some knowledge of machinery, or to treat the slightest ailment without some knowledge of medicine, show no hesitancy in the most drastic interference with industrial conditions more intricate than the most complicated machine, vast as the continent and more varied and complex than the human form."

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. (adv-T)

Work is about the last thing some folks think they need to make them happy.

Let the average man sleep on—he may only complain at being disturbed if you arouse him.
